

Sophie's big adventure

By: Amara Haran

Everyone loves a sunny place for a holiday, especially Hawaii. Sophie is the same as everyone else. She's been barraging her parents with questions to go for over sixteen months. I know what your thinking (how exhausting) but not for Sophie, it's her dream. She tells her parents every morning "I am the only kid in the class that hasn't been to Hawaii" and every morning her parents say "Well to bad" but one day something crazy happened so let me tell you all about it.

A young woman with dark hair is lying on her stomach on a bed, propped up on her elbows. She is wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and is looking down at a smartphone in her hands. The room is dimly lit with a purple glow. In the background, there is a pink pillow with the text 'NYKA ARMY' on it. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, sans-serif font.

It all started on a mysterious Monday.(By the way I'm Marley mouse Sophie's pet I'm the narrator.)The sun shone right I my face.I went to wake up Sophie for school.She moaned at me and said"Not yet Marley"I let her be late for school so I went and nibbled some cheese for breakfast "WAKE UP SOPHIE"I heard her mum say while I was nibbling my cheese"Oh well"I thought to myself

Sophie woke up and dressed into her school uniform, ate breakfast and packed her lunch. I could tell she was ready to ask. "Ahem can I please go on a trip to Hawaii" Sophie pleaded "What do you think now remember tomorrow you have got a babysitter" Sophie walked out the door with disappointment. I felt really bad then I had a lightbulb moment. I could tell the babysitter (in mouse language) that she is supposed to go to Hawaii. I just knew it would work.

Sophie walks through the door with bad energy she was so sad. She slammed the door with rage. I heard her screaming into her pillow. In the morning Sophie had a curriculum day so she had a babysitter. KNOCK KNOCK Sophie went to grab the door “Come in” Sophie greeted “You must be Sophie” She said “Sophie I’m Nerral” This was my time “Squeak squeak” Nerral was confused but she followed me. Sophie was in her room while I drew pictures of Sophie wanting to go to Hawaii to explain to Nerral about what’s going on. In three hours time Nerral understood.

“Sophie” called Nerral Sophie went in the car and Nerral told her that she bought tickets to Hawaii until her parents are back. It took Sophie ten minutes to stop thanking Nerral. Time flew by and Sophie just arrived at her hotel. Sophie went and picked me up and whispered”. Good job on being quiet on the airplane”. She ran outside with joy, I was happy to see her happy because it is all part of being a pet.
